Dear The Federal Communications Commission,

I do not want to pay more for my emergency telephone service! I use my Tracfone in my car and on my farm for emergency communication - not general calling.

I urge you to reject a flat fee proposal that would change how contributions are made to the Universal Service Fund. I am concerned that this proposal could make my current service unaffordable.

Under the flat fee proposal you are considering, people who make few or no long distance calls would pay the same as people or businesses that make many calls. In other words, low-volume and primarily residential or emergency customers would bear the same U.S. fund burden as a high-volume residential or business customers. This is unfair!

I use my wireless phone only occasionally for safety and security. I don't want to lose these benefits so that big businesses can pay less than their fair share. I urge you to reject the proposal to move the USF collection system to a flat-fee.

Keep the USF Fair!

Sincerely,

George Hegeman
